

Figure 1 - NOAA Chart 12205

Based on information from the dredging company, the channel is 7 feet deep directly out from the boat basin. Recent surveys show a shoal just outside the breakwater at 5.5 feet. As with all navigation, enter the marina using good marine practices. The chart and photo presented here are not for navigational purposes but rather to give the mariner additional information for the approach to the marina.